DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent; or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for the purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English.

2. Claims 4-6 and 13-15 and 22-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Chujoh et al., US 6,188,792.

Re claims 4, 13, 22, Chujoh discloses the same method, system and computer executed program for video image compression. The technical features of “compressing a video frame of a raw video image data using a processor” reads on Chujoh at (fig. 1:117, col. 6, line 21+); “determining whether the processor is limited in its ability to compress video image data” reads on Chujoh at (col. 6, line 59+, i.e., the ability to compress video image data is dictated by a predetermined “limit delay time”); and “adjusting a target frame rate based on a current amount of time taken to compress said video frame of raw video image data” reads on Chujoh at (col. 7, lines 4-63, i.e., the frame rate is increased or decreased to achieve a target bit rate for each frame within the time delay limit).

Claims 5, 14 and 23 read on Chujoh at col. 7, lines 23-35.

Claims 6, 15 and 24 read on Chujoh at col. 1, lines 53-65, col. 7, lines 23-35. In effect, a division by a natural number in Chujoh (col. 7, line 28) reads on an integer divisor between 1 and 30.

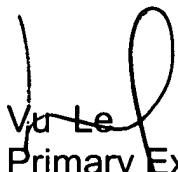

3. Claims 1-3, 7-12, 16-21 and 25-27 have been canceled.
